COMMENTS INVITED ON APPLICATION OF QWEST CORPORATION TO DISCONTINUE DOMESTIC TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES

WC Docket No. 05-178
Comp. Pol. File No. 708

Comments Due: May 31, 2005

Section 214 Application Applicant: Qwest Corporation

On April 15, 2005, Qwest Corporation (Qwest or Applicant) located at 1801 California Street, Denver, Colorado 80202, filed an application with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC or Commission) requesting authority, under section 214 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, 47 U.S.C. § 214, and section 63.71 of the Commission's rules, 47 C.F.R. § 63.71, to discontinue two domestic services, DS1 radio interface service channel termination (DS1 radio interface)<sup>1</sup> and DS3 radio interface service channel termination (DS3 radio interface),<sup>2</sup> currently offered throughout Qwest's 14-state region in Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. In a letter filed April 29, 2005, Qwest clarified certain statements in its initial application.

Qwest indicates that DS1 radio interface and DS3 radio interface is a point-to-point private line service designed to be carried from the customer's premises to the Qwest serving wire center over a microwave link. Qwest states that the product is intended to provide a DS1 or DS3 service to customer locations that are too remote to be connected by a traditional copper loop. Qwest adds that customers may choose a traditional wireline service from Qwest's tariff for the connection from the Qwest serving wire center to another location. Qwest states that the equipment that it would use to provide these services has been discontinued and as a result it can no longer provide the services. Qwest indicates that it does not have any customers for either service and has never had any customers in the approximately ten years that it has offered these services. In addition, Qwest indicates that its proposed discontinuance will serve the public interest and benefit consumers by minimizing the time that Qwest lists those services in its tariff that Qwest is no longer capable of providing. Qwest asserts that standard DS1 service is an alternative to DS1 radio interface, and standard DS3 service is an alternative to DS3 radio interface.

Qwest seeks to discontinue DS1 radio interface and DS3 radio interface by June 28, 2005, or as soon thereafter as the necessary regulatory approvals can be obtained. Qwest further states that it is a dominant carrier in the states where it offers the services to be discontinued.

In accordance with section 63.71(c) of the Commission's rules, Qwest's application will be deemed to be automatically granted on the sixtieth (60th) day after the release date of this public notice, unless the Commission notifies Qwest that the grant will not be automatically effective. Accordingly, to the extent these services are subject to section 63.71(c), absent further Commission action, Qwest may not terminate service until June 28, 2005. The Commission will normally authorize proposed discontinuances of service unless it is shown that customers or other end users would be unable to receive service or a reasonable substitute from another carrier, or that the public convenience and necessity would be otherwise adversely affected.

This proceeding is considered a "permit but disclose" proceeding for purposes of the Commission's ex parte rules, 47 C.F.R. §§ 1.1200-1.1216. Comments objecting to this application must be filed with the Commission on or before May 31, 2005. Such comments should refer to WC Docket No. 05-178 and Comp. Pol. File No. 708.
